User Info Macro

Prompt

Display information about a user.

Definition

Present a full range information about a given Confluence user, including profile fields and profile photo, with configurable display options.

You can also automatically select users using built-in hooks, such as @creator for the current page's creator, @modifier for the most recent modifier of the current page, or leave blank for the current user viewing the page. This is a convenient way to personalize pages across your site.
